

GAGA & CHOREOGRAPHIC PRACTICES

Dansalliansen

8 - 12 oktober 2018

The workshop will explore the choreographic practice of Keren Rosenberg and her ongoing dialogue with the Gaga movement language.

Every day, we will start with Gaga Dancers classes followed by a movement and choreographic research.

During the workshop we will focus on the use of energy as a mean to generate tension between bodies and as an exercise to measure volumes of presence; How human energy channels itself in space, the volume of its presence and its ability to transform and expose hidden truths about ourselves as humans and performers.

In the workshop, Keren will be sharing her artistic practice called BODY-HOUSE: viewing the body as an occupied entity of the self while mapping areas where the sense of presence and connection between the exterior and interior autonomy occurs. Working with scales of energy, constructing and deconstructing bodily volumes and morphing as a means to play with intention, directions and statements. Playing with textures, dynamics and timing while seeking for challenging, non- organic solutions.

The workshop will conclude with an open sharing. Video link:

Keren Rosenburg utexaminerades från Kibbutz Dance Company (KCDC)
Hon samarbetar gärna med konstnärer från andra scenkonstområden.

I början av 2011, blev hon speciellt inbjuden av Ohad Naharin att vara gäst i Batsheva Dance Company för att studera Gagans rörelsespråk och bli certifierad Gaga lärare. Keren avslutade denna första pilotutbildning i Tel Aviv 2012 och har sedan dess undervisat denna teknik på skolor och kompanier runt om i världen.

En workshop öppen för professionella yrkesverksamma dansare I samarbete med Danscentrum Syd.
